Africa's Universities: A Strategic Harvest Field

The 6.3 million college and university students in Sub-Saharan Africa are a strategic harvest field for the gospel.

Graduates of African colleges and universities exert tremendous influence in their societies—far more than in the West. That's why African university ministries are so strategic to the evangelization of the continent and the mobilization of the African church. This month we will intercede for the millions of college and university students studying in sub-Saharan Africa and the Indian Ocean Basin. We will also call on God to pour out His Spirit on our Assemblies of God university ministries across the continent. — Dr. Denny Miller, Director, Acts in Africa

According to the ICEF Monitor, about 6.3 million students are studying in the colleges and universities of Sub-Saharan Africa.

Pray for Africa's University Students

Please set aside time to intercede for the following:

Pray that God will sovereignly pour out His Spirit on the colleges and universities of Africa and the Indian Ocean Basin, and that thousands of African students and professors will be saved, filled with the Spirit, and mobilized as Christ's witnesses to the university and beyond.

Pray for the hundreds of African believers presently ministering to university and college students in Africa—that God will empower them by His Spirit.

Pray to the Lord of the Harvest that He will raise up hundreds of additional Spirit-anointed ministers and lay workers to reach the colleges and universities of Africa.

Pray for our Assemblies of God leaders as they begin to strategically target universities and university students in Africa.

Country Prayer Focus October 2017

Africa's Unreached Ethne: The Ingessana of Sudan

The Ingessana of Sudan worship the sun God, Tel.

About 113,000 Ingessana people live in extreme isolation in the Tabi Hills of Sudan and South Sudan near the Ethiopian border.

Because of their extreme isolation, the Ingessana have been influenced very little by outsiders. They worship the sun god, Tel, whom they believe to be creator of all things. The Ingessana are generally hostile to outsiders. These and other factors make them difficult to reach with the gospel.

- Pray that God will pour out His Spirit on the Ingessana peoples of Sudan.
- Pray that God will make a way for the gospel to come to the Ingessana people.
- Pray for the Assemblies of God churches in East and Central Africa, that God will use them to reach the Ingessana people with the gospel.
